Neighbor teen arrested in Waveland murders

BY D.C. HARVILL

A neighbor of the Waveland woman and her granddaughter found stabbed to death in their home earlier this month has been arrested and charged with the murders, according to Waveland Police Investigator Robert "Poochie" Tartavouille.

Joe L. Jushaway, 19, was arrested by Waveland Police Wednesday afternoon and charged with capital murder in the Dec. 7 deaths of Novella Gillum, 67, and her five-year-old granddaughter, Latrice Gillum.

Mrs. Gillum and her granddaughter had been stabbed 22 and 12 times, respectively, in the chest and neck area.

Jushaway lived with his parents directly across the street from the Gillum's 508 Morris St. home in Waveland's Middletown neighborhood.

"That lady (Mrs. Gillum) used to be my babysitter. She was like a mother to me. This is a hell of surprise to wake up to," Jushaway said when interviewed in front of the Gillum home on the morning of the murders.

"That was one smart little girl," the clean-cut and articulate Jushaway said of Latrice Gillum.

Jushaway also said that he had been awakened the night of the murder and saw a truck stop in front of the Gillum's house shortly after midnight and drive away about 15 minutes later.

At the scene that morning, Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn said he felt Mrs. Gillum knew the murderer, because there was no indication that the house had been entered by force.

Dorn's speculation was reinforced by family members and neighbors who said Mrs. Gillum always kept her doors locked.

Investigators surmised that robbery was the motive for the killings, since Mrs. Gillum's pocketbook was found in bushes behind the house and a wallet, believed to have contained money from her Social Security and Railroad Retirement checks, was missing.

Jushaway was taken to Hancock County Justice Facility shortly before presstime Wednesday.

port boys were found Tuesday. A sheet on the ground, right, covers the bodies of the youngsters, who are believed to have died by hypothermia. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Bay High auditorium to cost $1,298,770

BY DENA BISNETTE

Bay Senior High's new auditorium may look a little bare when it is completed, but it will be the first such facility built in the school district since the one at the original high school on Second Street.

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board accepted a recommendation from architect Fred Wagner Tuesday night and approved a bid from H. Gordon Myrick Construction of Gulfport.

The firm, which recently completed the new classroom addition at Bay High, bid $1,298,770.

The only board member voting against accepting the bid was Linda Penrose, who voted against building an auditorium when the matter was first addressed.

Wagner had estimated about $1,250,000 for the event.

Board Member Charles Benvenutti, however, referred to the approval as "bare bones approach" to the new facility.

In an effort to hold down the cost of constructing the auditorium, which with an adjacent bandhall will form the school's arts center, a number of items were deleted from the contract.

When completed, the auditorium will have about 600 seats, a raked floor and a full-sized stage, but there will only be a minimum of stage lighting. The wiring for additional lighting will be there, but Benvenutti said the district can not afford to provide a more elaborate system at this time.

Other items which had to be deleted include three bays of the music and art building, some sound equipment, a main stage curtain, covered walkways and some additional cabinetry.

The project is the last one to be financed from a $4.3 million bond issue which has paid for additions and renovations at all four of the district's schools.

Benvenutti said the school board will be calling upon the public for assistance with the stage curtains and additional lighting.

The community has been involved in the project for several months, following its redesign after a committee of citizens chosen by the board rejected a proposal for a flat-floored building.

The board also agreed to consider a resolution asking for a short-term loan at its next meeting, which has been moved to Jan. 15 to allow times for preparation of dockets.

The amount involved would be, if approved, $83,000. About $10,000 is to be used for furnishings for the music and art facilities, while the rest is earmarked for the covered walkways and sound equipment.

Penrose also voted against considering the short-term loan.

Investigation continues in death of three boys found in drifting boat

BY DENA BISNETTE

Three Gulfport youngsters found dead in a 10-foot boat Tuesday afternoon are believed to have died of hypothermia.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said autopsies will be done on all three bodies and are expected to show that the boys died when the cold weather caused their body temperatures to drop too far below normal, but until full reports of the autopsy results are obtained, the deaths remain the subject of a joint investigation by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Gulfport Police Department.

According to Peterson, the three boys apparently went for a ride in the small boat and drifted out too far to get back to shore. They had no sails or paddles with them when they were found.

The bodies were identified as Stephen King, age nine; Thomas Jerome Smith, 14, and Shane Michael Porter, 13, all of Gulfport.

Positive identification was made by their parents at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home Tuesday night, where the bodies were taken after being recovered by a Hancock County Sheriff's Department boat and brought to LaFrance's Fishing Camp at Ansley, Peterson said.

Investigator Nathan Hoda, who has been coordinating the investigation with Detective Steve Barnes of Gulfport Police Department, said the three were last seen by their parents at about 11:45 a.m. Monday.

Two of them were reported missing at about 8 a.m. Tuesday, while the report on the third boy was given to Gulfport Police Department shortly after 10 a.m.

The last time the three youngsters were seen ashore was 1:30 p.m. Monday when they were seen carrying the boat near the USS Camille souvenir shop in Gulfport, Hoda added. The boat was known to have been stored at the shop.

Taylor supports president in Panama military action

BY D.C. HARVILL

U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis supports President George Bush's decision to use military force in Panama, he said Wednesday afternoon.

The Wednesday morning action, which involved approximately 24,000 U.S. troops, follows a series of violent acts against Americans in the Central American country after the Panamanian government, under the leadership of Dictator Manuel Noriega, declared war on the United States Friday.

Saturday a U.S. Marine was killed and a Navy officer was beaten. The officer's wife was sexually harassed, according to statements from military officials.

"Given the recent threats, the beating of the U.S. Naval officer and sexual harassment of his wife and the killing of a Marine lieutenant, it was imperative that something be done to protect American military personnel and civilians in the area," Taylor said in a press release Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports late

Wednesday, 11 U.S. servicemen have been killed and 59 injured in the military action of which was to capture Noriega and improve safety for Americans in Panama.

School election set for Mar. 3

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board has an election set for Mar. 3.

The board, originally set up as a special municipal school district, has three trustees appointed by the Bay St. Louis City Council and two elected trustees from what is known as the "outside territory."

"The outside territory" was annexed to the original district a number of years ago and, according to board attorney Lucien Gex, includes most of the City of Waveland and a small section of Hancock County.

The seat coming up for election is currently held by Danny Carter.

'Doll House' ribbon cutting is tonight at Bay City Hall

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre will cut the ribbon on the "Doll House" Thursday, Dec. 21 at 5 p.m. on the front lawn of City Hall.

This will be the first year that the "Doll House," built by U.S. Navy Seabees of Gulfport, will be located at City Hall to receive donations for the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund and Food Pantry.

The city's Christmas tree will be lit at the time of the ribbon cutting.

"Bay St. Louis is a small town with a big heart. Our citizens always dig deep to help those in need," Favre said.

Christmas trees, donated by local merchants and school organizations, will line the sidewalks and will also be donated to families.

Any group wishing to furnish a modestly decorated tree for the event, or donate toys, food or funds in the name of the organization may do so by calling Gordon Boh at 467-9092 to make arrangements.

"It has been a good year for Bay St. Louis as a whole. We had a storm-free summer, no disasters. We all have a great deal to be grateful for, especially me," said Favre. I hope the success of the "Doll House" will reflect this gratitude. I invite everyone to bundle up to come celebrate and share."

Crime rate increases during holiday season

The crime rate in America soars along with the holiday spirit, warns criminologist at The University of Mississippi.

People can expect a higher incidence of mugging, purse snatching, armed robbery, burglary and rape. "It's a time when everyone is reminded of what they want or feel they need, or of greed, and criminals target those who are most vulnerable," said Dr. Chester L. Quarles, professor of political science at Ole Miss. "They're looking for their greatest return on the least risk, just like any business."

Dr. Quarles offers several timely tips for avoiding situations that invite criminals.

* Remember that criminals respect no one. According to the most recent crime statistics, five-sixths of all American families will be touched by violent crimes in their lifetime.

* Keep aware of what is going on around you. Any distracted person is a higher-probability crime victim than someone who is observant and wary and able to keep up with what's going on in his or her environment. For example, a woman shopper carrying packages and keeping up with a child or children is a prime target.

* Be sensitive to your own feelings. Consider what may be your sixth sense, and if a place or person really gives you the creeps, get out!

* Avoid feeling of false security. It's midday. A policeman is in sight and you're walking with several people. An automobile quietly pulls up alongside. A purse snatcher hangs out the

Watch children closely near holiday greenery

By Dr. Milo Burnham

Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Let's keep the holiday season full of joy and safe for infants, toddlers and small children that get such a kick out of this time of year.

One sure way to spoil the holiday spirit is to have to make a frantic telephone call to a child's doctor or make a trip to the hospital emergency room because a child has eaten or is suspected of eating something poisonous or dangerous.

We are all familiar with the warnings to keep dangerous chemicals out of the reach of children, but at Christmas some new potential hazards may be introduced to the home. Children are attracted by bright colors. Any object smaller than a large dog, may go immediately into a child's mouth.

Since plants, plant parts and holiday greenery play a large role in Christmas decorations and gifts, take precautions to insure that plants can be safely enjoyed as part of your Christmas.

First, most plants are not poisonous or dangerous, which should provide some relief, but that does not mean they can be eaten. This is the situation with the popular Christmas poinsettia. It is not poisonous, but it is not to be eaten either.

Let's play it safe by saying that all house plants and decorative holiday plants should not be eaten. Even ornamental pepper plants, with small, decorative peppers, should be considered dangerous to children. They produce a burning reaction when chewed or when they come in contact with the eyes.

Holiday peppers also may be easily confused with Jerusalem Cherry, another popular Christmas plant that is a member of the poisonous nightshade plant family.

In order to be safe, keep all plants out of the reach of children. Be especially careful when taking children to homes or places where small children normally don't spend time. Such places may have popular, decorative plants such as dumbcane or philodendron which are poisonous and within easy reach.

Mistletoe is not likely to be found within the reach of small children since it is most frequently displayed over doorways.

The decorative, white berries on mistletoe, however, may be knocked off the branches or be shed and fall to the floor where they can be easily picked up and eaten by small children.

Use caution when decorating with holly because of its bright red berries. These berries should be considered poisonous.

While Christmas trees aren't poisonous, their decorations can be hazardous, and caution should be used in the placement of ornaments. Personal experience has shown that a small child can pop a shiny, glass ornament in his mouth faster than you can say Merry Christmas.

Child care training program to be offered at Pearl River

Pearl River Community College will begin offering a two-year child development technology program this spring.

The program was approved by the lay-board of the Community/Junior College Association and the State Board of Education in January of 1989.

The program will be taught in the Vocational/Technical Building until renovations are completed in Bilbo Hall, when the program will use half of the bottom floor of the renovated building.

Dr. James Sones, dean of Vocational/Technical studies at PRC, said the program is being designed to meet the needs of the developing child care industry.

try in the area.

"Its primary purpose is to train people so they can go to work in this field," Sones said.

Part of the program will include working with children three to five years old in a special lab setting. Sones said there had been a misunderstanding in the past that this was to be a child care center.

Investigation

having spotted a small boat with three people in it floating offshore about 2 p.m.

On Tuesday, a tugboat received a call from a sailboat and in turn called the U.S. Coast Guard at about 1 p.m., reporting a small boat with three people in it drifting near the No. 7 marker at the Grand Island Channel.

The boat was half-full of water and the three boys were already dead when the Coast Guard found them and summoned the sheriff's department, Hoda said. He commented that they had been in the boat about 22 hours before being discovered.

While the Hancock County Sheriff's Department recovered the bodies and the 10-foot boat, St. Tammany Sheriff's Department personnel were called to LaFrance's because there was speculation the boys might be from Louisiana, Peterson stated.

By the time the sheriff's department boat returned to LaFrance's at about 4 p.m., the boat in which the boys had been found had broken in half in rough waters while being towed back to the fishing camp.

Stanley Hamilton, a Mississippi Department of Marine Resources officer who assisted with the recovery of the boat, told the sheriff at the scene that the water temperature Tuesday was about 45 degrees and that the wind chill factor was 25 degrees.

The oldest boy was found with his head propped up in the boat, while the two younger ones were face down in the water in the bottom.

Also assisting at the scene were Peterson, Investigators Delbert Seay and Glen Strong, several deputies and Hancock County Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet.

Christmas traditions honored with time

Today is Thursday, December 21, 1989 and this is the "countdown" 21, 22, 23 and 24. Ready or not, it is Christmas!

We have shopped for gifts, cooked and cleaned, and addressed endless cards and gifts. Shall we now update some of the customs that make Christmas the most widely celebrated holiday in America?

We know the first Christmas cards in America were sent in 1875. Christmas carol singing dates even further back. What are some of our best known hymns of Joy? "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," a traditional Christmas carol, was used in the 13th century. The Puritans who came to America continued their ban on Christmas carols!

Nobody knows exactly when Christ was born, however, most Christians observe December 25 as the season of "Peace on Earth and Good Will Toward Men." These sentiments are beautifully expressed with decorations, church and civic services and friendly gatherings. Christians make up the largest religious group in the world.

The Christmas wreath is a circle that symbolizes eternity and reminds us of God's eternal love. Holly, the holly is the symbol of everlasting life.

St. Francis felt Christmas had degenerated into a carnival, described as a holiday devoted to wassail, tipple and quaff.

Should we strive to keep these traditions alive? Is this a heritage to be passed on from generation to generation?

The season of "peace on earth and good will toward men" should be expressed by Christians. The pledge to the Christian flag, an emblem of the Protestant churches since 1897, is recited in many churches as: "I pledge allegiance to the Christian flag and to the savior for whose Kingdom it stands; one brotherhood uniting all mankind in service and in love."

Let us unite in that pledge and keep Christmas.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This is the time of year when many of us begin to think about the extra weight we have gained because of holiday parties.

In checking the scale on Tuesday morning, I noticed an increase of several pounds over a few days ago. It just seems I can look at food and my weight will increase.

I know there are others who seem to be able to eat all day long and never gain an ounce.

I guess, once again, come January 1, I will have to make a resolution to watch my weight.

This is the time to begin thinking about resolutions for the New Year. I know I will not be the only one trying to lose weight.

On the subject of weight loss, life-long friend Horace Ruhr of Waveland is doing a very good job of losing weight.

His weight now is lower than it probably has been in 40 years or so.

Keep losing those pounds, Horace.

I can remember the times Horace and I hunted rabbits and squirrels across from his Nicholson Avenue residence behind the former mayor's house.

Don't worry folks, it wasn't illegal to hunt in Waveland at that time and we killed our share of rabbits and squirrels.

My, how time flies.

I am glad to hear how our county is seeking grants to upgrade our recreational facilities.

The last week good news was received was a federal funds grant of $18,000 sought by Hancock County Recreation director Hilda Bourg.

The grant will be used to provide a lighted ball park in the Fenton Community and a basketball court in the Pearlington area.

Information was received by the county from the office of U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis.

The Mississippi Department of Wildlife and Fisheries will serve as administrator of the monies. Hancock County will match the grant fund for the projects.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Ich bin ein Choctaw

Just over a quarter century ago, then President of the United States, Jack Kennedy, addressed the citizens of Berlin at the now crumbling Berlin Wall.

"All free men, wherever they may live," he said, "are citizens of Berlin. And, therefore, as a free man, I take pride in the words, 'Ich bin ein Berliner.'"

Paraphrased, President Kennedy was saying that all free men joined the citizens of Berlin in their struggle for freedom.

Today, all Mississippians, wherever we may live, join the family and friends of Mississippi College, celebrating the national championship just won by the Mississippi College Choctaw football team.

The national championship for the Mississippi team represents more than just a football victory, as exciting as that is.

The Mississippi College team, made up mostly of Mississippi young men, came off the floor to win the national championship. They finished the regular season with a 7-3 record and barely made the championship playoffs.

Their first playoff game was against the number one ranked team in Division Two of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. They won three games on the home fields of their opponents in their march to the national title, two of those victories coming on snow-covered fields.

In addition to the excellence of the football team, the Choctaw championship illustrates the quality and character of a band of young men from Mississippi. It illustrates the commitment of one of the state's private institutions of higher learning, Mississippi College is a Mississippi Baptist-supported school.

The citizens of Clinton, home site of the Choctaws, have shown unusual support for and pride in the school and in the football team.

At a time when the Mississippi Economic Council is sponsoring a statewide program designed to improve Mississippi's image, the Mississippi College Choctaws have made a significant contribution to that effort.

Today, all Mississippians can say with pride and enthusiasm: "Ich bin ein Choctaw."

We are all Choctaws.

Colleges need to be accountable

Anyone who has ever had a boss knows what "accountability" means. It means if you don't do the job, you face the consequences.

But what if your boss cannot figure out just how good a job you are doing, or whether you are improving on the job?

We face that same problem in education in Mississippi. Because we have no good way to measure, it is very difficult to hold our colleges and universities accountable for how well students learn.

That is why one of the major goals of Mississippi's BEST is to put up a score board to let us know just how well each of our universities and colleges are doing.

Under BEST, institutions of higher learning will be held accountable by giving a special test to students finishing their second year. This valuable information will allow us to compare schools and find out where work is needed so we can improve. It will also help students before they are done with college.

One of the most important tests, however, is how our university graduates do in the job marketplace. Are they getting jobs, and are those jobs paying the kind of money that a college education should draw? To answer these questions, Mississippi's BEST will require that job placement rates and wage rates of university and college graduates be published.

Mississippi's BEST focuses on higher education in a number of other key areas. Because of its tremendous expertise, BEST draws on that knowledge to help education at all levels.

Under the "University Help for School Improvement" Program, universities and colleges will help troubled schools improve, provide instruction in computers and other high technology, and explain the requirements of college to high school teachers and students.

Teachers are important.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Use TV as teaching tool without increasing taxes

Dear Editor:

Does Education Reform without any additional cost to taxpayers sound good? Too good?

Well, it's not impossible. Consider this idea my Christmas present to all of Mississippi!

The technology is already available, and with proper implementation Mississippi can give equal and advanced teaching to every student throughout our state...perhaps faster and better than BEST (for sure at lower cost).

Computer companies like IBM, Apple and others have developed programs to teach spelling, math, science, etc. for every school grade. Use them!

But that's just for starters. I envision students being trained in a dramatic, interesting, even inspiring fashion for 15 to 20 minutes of every class by commercial TV with specially made education programs—with follow-up by classroom teachers.

Every student across Mississippi will be exposed to the exact same material regardless of how great or inept or inexperienced the classroom teacher may be. Such a teaching method will not disenfranchise classroom teachers...no, just an additional tool to use. And if remedial training for some slower students is required, video tape programs could be used at the speed each student can handle.

How to pay for all this without using tax money?

Well, a commercial education satellite TV network is in its infancy—so get TV to pay the state a "sustaining fee" just as network TV pays its local affiliates; they could also sell ad time statewide. This money would be used to buy and maintain equipment needed to implement this idea.

Sure, there's lots of details to work out, but we need better educated students and fewer dropouts NOW. Young people are already acclimated to TV and it has the potential to train, to hold their interest and just make education something they want—not a chore.

Just consider a better and equal education for all students with no new tax dollars makes sense to me. And if you think so also, pass it along (to those in power).

Merry Christmas,

Election

According to Gex, candidates must qualify for the election 40 days prior to election day, but the board must advertise the election only 21 days prior to that date. The board agreed Tuesday to advertise it early in order to give candidates a chance to qualify.

The term of the person elected will be five years.

The board is allowed to vote on the place and hours of the election and will make its official decision at its Jan. 15 meeting, but the usual location is Waveland Elementary School.

Gex added that he has calculated the date from the statute governing the election and has found it to be Mar. 3.

The Jan. 15 meeting begins at 7 p.m. in the new administration building behind Bay Middle School.

BIG ELVES—Bay High Distributive Education Club members load toys collected at the school for the Hancock County Toy and Doll Fund. The month-long drive netted $300 in cash and more than 1500 toys for the charity. According to the fund's coordinator Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, the toys and money came at a good time. "We had 250 children left to serve and we were out of money and toys," he said. The student project was done as a civic consciousness component of the organization, according to DECA advisor Wendy Rupp. (Echo staff photo by D.C. Harvill)

UM holiday musical to air Christmas Eve

Instrumental and vocal music will be included in the television special "A Christmas Celebration," produced by The University of Mississippi for airing during the holidays.

Cuy Hovis, a regular on "The Lawrence Welk Show" for 12 years and Ole Miss alumnus, will host and narrate the 30-minute special. He recently was the featured entertainer for the "First Lady's Luncheon" in Washington, D.C., which honored Nancy Reagan.

The program will include appearances by the University Orchestra; The Mississippians, a jazz band; The Spirit of Ole Miss, a show choir; and The University of Mississippi Wind Ensemble.

The special will air at 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 24 on WLOX-TV in Biloxi.

Homemade food items are good holiday gift ideas

Homemade food items can make tasty and unusual gifts for friends on your Christmas list.

"By giving foods that you've made as gifts, you put something of yourself into it because it's something that more personalized," said Dr. Kathleen Yadrack, assistant professor in the University of Southern Mississippi School of Home Economics.

Yadrack offered suggestions for those who want to get away from giving traditional foods as gifts. Flavored vinegars, mustards and oils, candied or caramelized fruits and other homemade items can be packaged in holiday wrapping and ribbons.

The vinegars can be flavored with rosemary, oregano, fennel and basil. Fresh chilis or garlic cloves can be added to vegetable and olive oils to give them extra flavor.

The vinegars and oils can be bottled in salad dressing bottles or soft drink bottles, and the bottles can then be decorated with ribbons and holiday food labels, Yadrack said.

"I also enjoy receiving food gifts myself because they're always something I can use," Yadrack said.

"You can make your own candied fruits, which people use in baking, by preparing a sugared syrup and dipping or rolling fruit in it," Yadrack said. Fruits that can be used for this purpose include oranges, dried fruits, pineapple slices, cranberries, and nuts like walnuts and pecans.

When making gifts for children, Yadrack suggested preparing trail mixes containing dried fruits and nuts. Flavored popcorn can also be made by spraying popcorn with a nonstick spray and sprinkling with chili powder, onion powder, garlic powder, grated parmesan cheese or cinnamon.

Homemade cookies can be packaged in decorative holiday boxes or bags and given as gifts Yadrack said.

"When you're trying to find a gift for a friend, food gifts are something that, as a giver, you can do relatively easily," Yadrack said. "As a receiver of the gift, this is something you can use."

Yadrack also provided recipes for several items that can be prepared for gifts.

Spicy Fruit Mustard

3 (3-ounce) jars no-sugar-added all-fruit apricot spread
1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
1/4 cup dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon dried whole basil

Combine apricot spread and vinegar in medium bowl; stir well. Combine remaining ingredients; add to apricot mixture, stirring well.

Store mustard in airtight container in refrigerator. Serve with crackers as an appetizer or as a glaze on roast poultry or pork. Yield: 3 cups (about 28 calories per tablespoon).

Chocolate Snowflake Cookies

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup vegetable oil
4 (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

3/4 cup sifted powdered sugar

Combine first three ingredients in large mixing bowl; beat at medium speed of electric mixer until blended. Add eggs and vanilla, mixing well. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Add about one-fourth of dry mixture at a time to chocolate mixture, mixing after each addition.

Cover and chill dough at least two hours. Shape dough into 1-inch balls, and roll in powdered sugar. Place cookies two inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Yield: 8 dozen.

Orange-Flavored Vinegar

12 (4-inch) strips orange rind
3 thin-skinned, medium-size oranges, peeled and sectioned

3 cups white wine vinegar

Combine orange rind strips and orange sections in a sterilized, decorative jar, and set aside. Place vinegar in medium non-aluminum saucepan; bring to a boil.

Pour vinegar over rind and orange sections in jar; cover with lid. Let stand 10 days. Seal jars with a cork or other airtight lid. Yield: 3 cups (about 2 calories per tablespoon).

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Times have changed so very much over recent years, haven't they?—and Christmastime and Christmas customs along with it all.

Nowadays, it seems, the Christmas season begins almost before the Thanksgiving blessing is said at table, with stores and homes and city streets, even, already bedecked with the signs and sounds of Christmas and here and there a Santa Claus whenever you turn around!

And, so, of course, my thoughts turned to the way it was when I was growing up in New Orleans and on the Gulf Coast those many years ago, when so much of the expectation and awe and excitement was compressed into the dwindling days just before Christmas.

It wasn't until Christmas Eve that our tree was set up and decorated, and as we grew, the tradition lingered, because even in the next generation, when our sons were growing up, I'm sure that we were always the last ones in the neighborhood to get our Christmas tree and the last ones to decorate it—but everyone seemed to enjoy our impromptu "tree trimming" parties on Christmas Eve!

My mother's special Christmas Eve supper was always bowls of ever-so-savory buttery oyster stew, with crisp oyster crackers, enjoyed while admiring the results of our combined efforts—and you know, with the weather we've been having, you might relish a bowl of:

MOTHER'S BUTTERY OYSTER STEW

1 quart oysters (say, 4 dozen) with oyster liquor
4 Tblsp. minced shallots or green onions

1 Tblsp. minced parsley (fresh parsley, please)
Quart of half-and-half or milk
Cup of clam juice, if available
Half a stick of butter
Pepper, salt, cayenne as desired

Drain the quart of oysters and reserve the liquor. Combine the liquor with the minced shallots or green onions, adding the parsley. Bring to a low boil.

Meanwhile, in another saucepan (you can wash two pans, after all, it's Christmas) heat the half-and-half (for a richer stew) or the milk to the boiling point—but don't boil, please! Add the oyster liquor and the cup of clam juice, along with the butter.

Next, add the oysters and heat, almost, but not quite, to the boiling point, stirring, just until the edges of the oysters curl. Season with pepper and salt to your taste, and serve at once with pats of butter atop each serving—and, for me, a dash of hot pepper sauce!

(Copyright, 1989, Katharine D. M. Caire)

P.S.—You may omit the clam juice, but it does give the oyster stew that extra "something," for the secret of Mother's oyster stew was the added clam juice, a trick she learned from her cousins on the eastern shores of Maryland, and trick, incidentally, brought to fame by the Oyster Bar in New York's Grand Central Station; and that oyster stew has long been acclaimed by gourmets and would-be gourmets the world over.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

LETTERS TO SANTA

Dear Santa,

I am four years old and go to Bay Waveland Head Start. I've been a pretty good boy this year. My Grandma is writing for me. I would like a fire truck, an icee machine, car, truck, and some clothes.

Please remember my friends at school and my teachers, Ms. Sarah and Mrs. Hall. Also don't forget my cousins Joshua, David and Henry. Please make their Christmas extra nice.

Be careful, and I'll be watching for you. P.S. Don't forget all children throughout the world. Merry Christmas.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1989-1B

TIME OUT

By Dena Bisnette

Sometimes people seem to forget that sports are games, not fighting matters.

I was disappointed to read about the suspension of students from South Pike and McComb as a result of a fight during a basketball game, and even more astounded at the news about a coach suffering a shattered shoulder when he tried to break it up.

One of the reasons that team sports are provided in schools is to teach sportsmanship; a large part of what sportsmanship is all about is the ability to take winning and losing equally well.

It sounds like somebody missed the message. Fortunately, most of the young athletes here seem to understand sportsmanship and display it almost all of the time.

Incidents such as the one between McComb and South Pike are rare, and they should stay that way.

I know Hancock County has a bass club and members will be interested in the schedule for the 1990 South Mississippi Association of Bass Clubs tournament circuit.

The tournaments, open to member clubs only, include the following dates and locations: Pascagoula River, Jan. 7; Back Bay Biloxi, Feb. 3; Jourdan River, March 18; Pearl River, April 28; Back Bay Biloxi, May 37; and Pascagoula River, June 23.

The dates for the annual year-end classic have been set as Oct. 27 and 28, but the location has not yet been announced.

For more information, contact SMABC spokesman Greg Leitz at 377-3837 or call any member of a participating club.

Congratulations to three Diamondhead golfers who reported holes-in-one recently.

Robbie Russell aced the no. 4 hole with a 7-iron on the Cardinal Course. Kathy Crouch and Tom Parkin both got theirs on the Pine Course, with Crouch acing the no. 6 hole and Parkin getting his hole-in-one on the no. 2 hole.

Well, there's a last chance for everything, and now there's a Last Chance to Run or Walk. Scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday on John Lee Road in North Gulfport, the event is being sponsored by Gatorade and Road Runners Club of America and hosted by Gulf Coast Running Club.

Entry fees are $3 for Gulf Coast Running Club members and $4 for non-members, but if you join the club on race day and pay dues at that time, the race is free.

Miss out on a trophy or medallion from another race this year? This may be your second chance to pick one up, because the awards ceremony is going to be like a surprise party. At the Last Chance, you don't know what the trophy might say.

For more information, contact Linda Sullivan at 832-6701 or Denise Longino at 392-4412.

Congratulations to another group of All-District players. This one's from Bay High and includes two players and four honorable mentions.

Heath Hopgood, an offensive lineman, and Willie Moody, a defensive back, were named to the All-District team. Receiving honorable mentions were Scott LaFontaine and Brian Favre, both offensive linemen; Emmanuel Antoine, running back; and David LeGros, linebacker.

Cycles Plus Bicycle Club will not host its usual Sunday ride because Sunday is Christmas Eve.

Sports action takes a break for the holidays next week after the Pascagoula Tournament, which began Wednesday night and includes Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus.

Anybody who does have something for Time Out during the holidays, we'll be here except for Sunday and Christmas Day. You can call us at 467-5474 or mail items to P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

I'm sure somebody will be able to squeeze a little fishing and hunting into the holidays, and can maybe get that big fish or that game trophy as a little "Christmas bonus."

Merry Christmas, everyone!

SSC Rocks defeat Bay High in soccer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws continued their victory streak by defeating the Bay High Tigers 4-2 in a district soccer match Friday, Dec. 1.

This victory indicates "that the team is beginning to draw together as a cohesive unit," said Stanislaus Coach Mark Foley.

St. Stanislaus took a commanding lead of the game during the first half, outshooting the Tigers 15-4, but more importantly, outscoring them 2-0. Scoring for the Rock-A-Chaws in the first half were David Eckert and Jesse Hays, with assists from Trey Kidd and David Eckert.

The second half saw a more aggressive Bay High team scoring two goals, but each Tiger goal was answered by a Rock-A-Chaw score, resulting in the 4-2 victory for the Rocks.

Second-half goals for Bay High were scored by Lee Murphy and Gary Carber, while the Stanislaus lead was extended by David Eckert's second goal of the evening and Trey Kidd's score in the final minutes of the match.

The Rock-A-Chaw junior varsity powered past the junior Tigers 6-0, with goals by Kirk Edrington, Darrin Rose, Jeff Loun and three scores by John Rutherford.

Local residents recall 1945 military ballgame

BY DENA BISNETTE

Sports memories do last a long time.

Last week's Time Out column included several lines from a letter written by Marvin M. Pearson of Picayune, who reminisced about a military football game he watched in Reims, France, in 1945. The game was of particular local interest because one of the players was Leo Seal of Bay St. Louis.

Pearson recalled a field goal Seal had kicked and also that the program sheet listed him as being from "Bay St. Louis, Mo."

"I'll bet I was probably the only person from Mississippi who witnessed the event. I wonder if he remembers," Pearson had said.

Seal remembers and has provided The Sea Coast Echo with an account of the game, at which Pearson was not the only Mississippian after all. And, there was a little more local interest than Pearson originally thought, because a former Bay High coach was there too.

"I well remember the game; it was against the 101st Airborne Division in which we won 10-7. I used to do all the kick-offs, extra points and fields goals for the OISE Red Devils," Seal said in a letter he sent with the account of the game.

"Regarding other Mississippians, Clay 'Goofus' Boyd, who coached at Bay High 1941-43, was the backfield coach of the OISE team and Granville 'Buttermilk' Harrison, who played at Mississippi State a couple of years before me, was on the team with me."

Seal also remembers meeting some other people from his hometown.

"After the 101st Airborne Game, which was played at Reims, France, Walter James Phillips and 'Buck' Quintini, both of Bay St. Louis, came down on the field to visit with me, along with four other Mississippians I knew. I can't remember who all of them were but one was Mike Morrison from Hattiesburg."

About a week ago, Seal heard from Frank Martin of Temple, Texas, who played on the OISE team and sent him several photos, a photocopy of the program from another game against the Bremen Port Command and a Stars and Stripes article about the team.

In the program for the Bremen game, Seal was also listed as being from "Bay St. Louis, Mo." and Harrison is listed simply as being from "Miss."

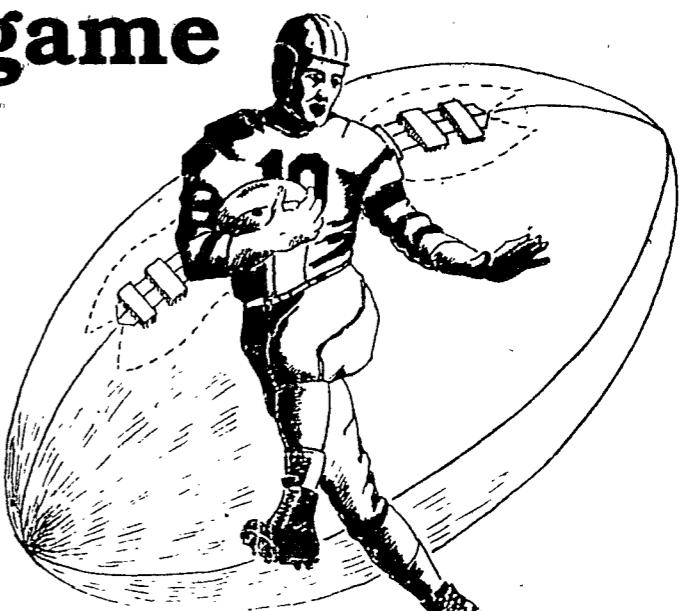

The backfield coaches for that particular game included Sgt. Vernon C. Boyd of Mississippi Southern, an old name for University of Southern Mississippi.

The OISE team eventually went on to win the Theatre Service Forces Championship for the entire European Theatre.

The Stars and Stripes clipping consists of a pre-game story and statistics, which do not include games against the 101st Airborne or the 75th Infantry Divisions because they were in the Infantry Division League and OISE was not competing for a title in that particular league.

"The story is headlined 'Oise Plays 42d Div. Nov. 22' and mentions Seal in particular.

"The Oise Red Devils, newly-crowned TSFET League Kings, will be gunning for new laurels when they play host to the 42nd Inf. Div., champions of the U.S. Forces in Austria, on Thanksgiving Day in Reims," the story states.

"Leo Seal, tackle from Mississippi State, was the hero in two of the Oise victories when he kicked the extra points which enabled the Red Devils to down Seine, 14-13, and Chanor, 7-6. In other games Oise defeated Bremen, 14-0, and Normandy, 1-0 (by forfeit) and lost to Delta 7-6."

Tigers honored

defensive end at Pearl River Community College, where he was selected to Junior College All-star Team and was chosen All State defensive end. Lacoste said he accepted USM's offer because, "I know they have a good business school, they're going to give me a good opportunity to play and it's convenient."

WLOX-TV will present the state with a Christmas gift through a special edition of "Our Finest Hour," a program which recognizes the achievements of people from Mississippi.

On Monday, Dec. 25, the program will air from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. It will feature the following accomplished athletes from our state:

Walter Payton, former college football player at Jackson State University who went on to play for the Chicago Bears; Former Ole Miss and New Orleans Saints football player, Archie Manning;

"Chunkin'" Charley Conerly, who played football for Ole Miss in the forties and later for the New York Giants;

And from Mississippi State University and the Boston Celtics, former basketball great, Bailey Howell.

Jeff Lawon serves as host for the program.

Ole Miss fans plan pre-bowl parties

Alumni and friends of The University of Mississippi are invited to a spirit-boosting 'Hoty Toddy' party from 10 a.m. to noon on Dec. 28 in The Peabody Hotel's Continental Ballroom in Memphis, Tenn.

To prepare Ole Miss fans for the Liberty Bowl game against the Air Force Academy that night at 7, the informal gathering features football highlights from past Ole Miss games. Admission is free.

Scheduled from 3:30 to 6 p.m. at the Pipkin Building, next to Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium, the event features entertainment by The Tangents and a pep rally. Admission is free.

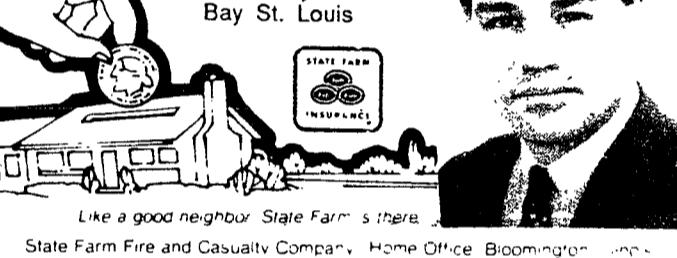

For those wishing to eat, barbecue plates will be available for $6 each.

Paralyzed Ole Miss player expected to attend Liberty Bowl

Doctors at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis say that Roy Lee "Chucky" Mullins, who has been in intensive care since an Oct. 28 injury left him paralyzed, will be able to attend the Dec. 28 Liberty Bowl if his condition continues to improve.

Game-day activities will include an effort to add to the Roy Lee "Chucky" Mullins Trust Fund to provide lifetime care of the University of Mississippi defensive back.

Collection bins will be placed in the concourse area of Memphis' Liberty Bowl Stadium for those wishing to donate to the fund prior to or during the Ole Miss-Air Force Game.

The bins will have some form of identification to show that they are for the Mullins Fund, said Ole Miss Vice Chancellor for Administrative Affairs Les Wyatt.

Mullins, 20, a sophomore from Russellville, Ala., fractured his spine during the football game against Vanderbilt. The Mullins Trust Fund, set up three days later by the university, had reached a total of more than $611,000 on Dec. 12.

This latest total includes $7,500 collected by students at the University of Southern Mississippi at their Nov. 25 football game with East Carolina and the Nov. 27 basketball tilt with Tennessee Tech.

JSU schedules registration

Jackson State University will hold registration for the 1990 spring semester Jan. 8-9 in the Lee E. Williams Athletics and Assembly Center and at the Universities Center, 3825 Ridgewood Rd., Jackson. Classes begin Jan. 10.

On the main campus, day students will register from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Evening and graduate students register from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Registration at the Universities Center is from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

TODAY
Good Health & Long Life are Invisible Christmas Gifts

When the Three Wise Men, led by the star, came from the Orient to worship at the Crib in Bethlehem, they brought with them gifts meant for a King. Along with gold and precious stones, they brought medicinal and aromatic herbs and spices (such as frankincense and myrrh) then numbered among the world's most treasured possessions.

It is clear from Biblical writings that the early Hebrews prized the "vegetable drugs" very highly and they had great respect for the physician and the physician's assistant, the apothecary (pharmacist).

Beginning with the Book of Exodus, the Bible makes mention of these two "health team" members and of the methods they used to heal the sick. Bandages, applications of oil and oil mixed with wine, salves, poultices, roots and leaves were the tools the Biblical physician used in order to practice his profession.

Fortunately, times have changed since then. Today's physician can count on hundreds of useful drugs to help him in his fight against disease. And, thanks to modern research, under your Christmas Star there's an invisible gift . . . health and long life.

Gifts for gardeners are abundant, easy to find

By Dr. Milo Burnham
Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Christmas isn't far off and not having to attend to such chores as mowing, raking, watering or spraying allows more time for Christmas shopping. Of course, once Christmas and New Year's are over, and weather permitting, it will be time to get back to the winter yard chores of cleaning up, dumping ashes and hauling firewood. But for now, concentrate on Christmas and shopping for those special gifts for gardening friends and family.

If you're tired of giving socks for a gift, consider giving a pair of good gardening gloves such as those made of goatskin. They'll be appreciated and may even be well worn by spring.

There are many gardening and yard care items that make excellent gifts and stocking stuffers. Indoor-outdoor thermometers are great, but also look for a soil thermometer. Conscientious gardeners want and need to know the soil temperature when considering setting out plants or seeds.

Some of the best places to look for gardening-related gifts items like a lawn sprinkler or timer for the sprinkler and watering system. If you want to spend a little more, how about a good pair of pruning shears, a leaf blower, maybe even a garden cart or a garden lighting system?

When it comes to cutting-type items like pruning shears, there are also electric hedge trimmers, knives, string and cultivators and if you're really feeling generous, a new tiller. Gifts for a gardener need not include only those items related to working in the yard and garden. Visit a book store as well as the other places mentioned for a good choice of garden-related books. A subscription to one of the gardening magazines is a continuous reminder of your thoughtfulness.

Decorative items for outdoor enjoyment include wind chimes, patio furniture, cement and metal statuary and decorative items, a bird bath, small fountain or fancy pots.

For the flower lover, consider a book on flower arranging, or flower arranging equipment such as an attractive vase to display and enjoy garden flowers.

One of the nicest gifts is a bird feeder and a supply of wild bird seed. When it's cold outside, a bird feeder that can be easily seen from indoors will be enjoyed by those on the inside and certainly by our feathered friends outside.

Hummingbirds have gone south for the winter, but they'll be back in spring so be sure to give someone a hummingbird feeder. They'll get a whole summer of enjoyment from it next year. A pair of binoculars may cost more than you care to spend but certainly make watching the outdoor birds more enjoyable.

Your garden can also help provide a special gift. If you're lucky enough to have muscadine vines and elementary school children or grandchildren who need teacher gifts help the kids to make small grape vine wreaths and decorate them with colorful bows.

They'll be enjoyed not only during the holidays but all year long. Pieces of fresh rosemary tucked into the wreaths add a little color as well as a delightful fragrance.

Faced with the problem of being unable to decide what will make the best gift, consider a gift certificate from your local garden supply center.

Mississippi Art Commission seeks nominations for advisory panelists

The Mississippi Arts Commission requests nominations for arts advisory panelists from the general public for the commission's granting process.

The qualifications for panelists include, but are not limited to, expertise in an arts discipline, arts administration, and arts education. The final selection of the panelists is voted on by board members of the Mississippi Arts Commission.

The composition of the panels reflects a wide variety of experience in the arts as well as a racial, ethnic, and geographic representation in the state.

The panels meet annually to review grant applications and to make recommendations to the Commission Board on the artistic and educational quality of applicants and the administrative capability of organizations applying for grants. The board members of the commission have the authority for awarding grants.

To nominate advisory panelists, please send the name, address, and a brief resume to Doonie Hector, Public Information Director, Mississippi Arts Commission, 239 North Lamar Street, Suite 207, Jackson, MS 39201.

The Mississippi Arts Commission is a state agency with funding provided by the Mississippi State Legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

Mississippi cattle history detailed in MDAC book

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce has limited quantities available of the book, "A History of the Mississippi Beef Cattle Industry." The book is available at the special rate of $10 each until all copies are sold.

The book would make an excellent Christmas present for those who are interested in this valuable part of Mississippi history.

The book also contains hundreds of photographs of people who have contributed to the beef cattle industry.

Copies of the book may be ordered from the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, P.O. Box 1609, Jackson, MS 39205. The cost is $10 per copy plus $1 shipping and handling. Allow one week for delivery.

MSU's 100th baseball season includes five new opponents

A season-opening three-game appearance in Busch Challenge IV at the Louisiana Superdome highlights Mississippi State University's 60-game 1990 baseball schedule was announced by MSU Director of Athletics Larry Templeton.

Coach Ron Polk's 1990 Bulldog diamondmen, with five starters returning from last season's SEC Championship team, will be joined by in-state rivals Mississippi and Southern Mississippi in round-robin competition against Louisiana State, New Orleans and Tulane.

Feb. 16-19 in the Busch Challenge. MSU meets SEC rival LSU Feb. 16 in the earliest season-opener in Mississippi State baseball history. Mississippi State will play 34 games at 6,700-seat Dudy Noble Field on the MSU campus, including three-game Southeastern Conference series with LSU, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Georgia.

Five newcomers dot the attractive spring schedule in Mississippi State's 100th season of baseball. New to the MSU slate are Tulane, the Bulldogs' third-round opponent in the Busch Challenge, Xavier (Ohio) University, Illinois State, University of Evansville (Ind.) and Northeast Louisiana University.

Xavier and Evansville appear on the Mississippi State baseball schedule for the first time while Northeast Louisiana returns to the MSU schedule for the first time since 1974 and Illinois State, coached by former MSU graduate assistant Jeff Stewart, visits MSU for the first time since 1940.

Commercial mackerel season to close today

The Mississippi commercial fishing season on king mackerel closes today.

The state Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks on Monday voted to close the season on the recommendation of Bureau of Marine Resources officials.

The commercial king mackerel season will reopen at one minute after midnight on July 1, 1990.

BMR officials made the recommendation because the commercial king mackerel quota for the western zone of the Gulf of Mexico has been met. The quota is part of a joint Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Fishery Management Council fishery management plan.

The plan sets a total allowable catch of king mackerel for commercial and recreational fishermen. The total allowable catch for commercial fishermen in the gulf's western zone is 420,000 pounds.

The total allowable king mackerel recreational catch for the entire gulf is 2.90 million pounds. The recreational quota has not been met, according to BMR officials.

The western zone of the gulf runs from the U.S.-Mexico border to the Alabama-Florida state line.

This closure does not affect Spanish mackerel fishing in Mississippi waters.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary offers needed services, supplies

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Christmas tree in the lobby of Hancock Medical Center is adorned with handcrafted angel ornaments featuring the names of each member of the HMC Women's Auxiliary.

For each angel on the tree, there is an "angel" who goes quietly about her business in the hospital—making life easier for the staff and insuring more pleasant hospital stays for the patients.

The ladies in pink volunteered close to 6,000 hours of service during 1988-89. Since January, 1987, they have accumulated 16,000 hours of service.

In addition to volunteering their time, they have purchased items for the hospital totaling $10,611.49. Among the much needed supplies are a "Crash Kelly", Fax machine and day bed chairs for each room in the hospital.

The "Crash Kelly" is a practice dummy used for cardiopulmonary resuscitation lessons, given to staff members in the hospital and to interested groups.

Activity chairman Betty Kiely constructs children's activity bags which are distributed to tiny patients. The contents include colors, books, pencils and small toys which encourage quiet play for those needing bedrest.

Kiely reports donations of items to fill the bags, as well as white and pastel cotton materials to construct the bags are appreciated.

The auxiliary also rents "Lifecall" medical alert systems. Small units which are usually placed next to the telephone, in the bathroom or worn on a medallion around the neck, feature a button which connects the patient with assistance from medical personnel.

For additional information, call Lifecall chairman Edna Kleinpetter, afternoons, at 467-7976.

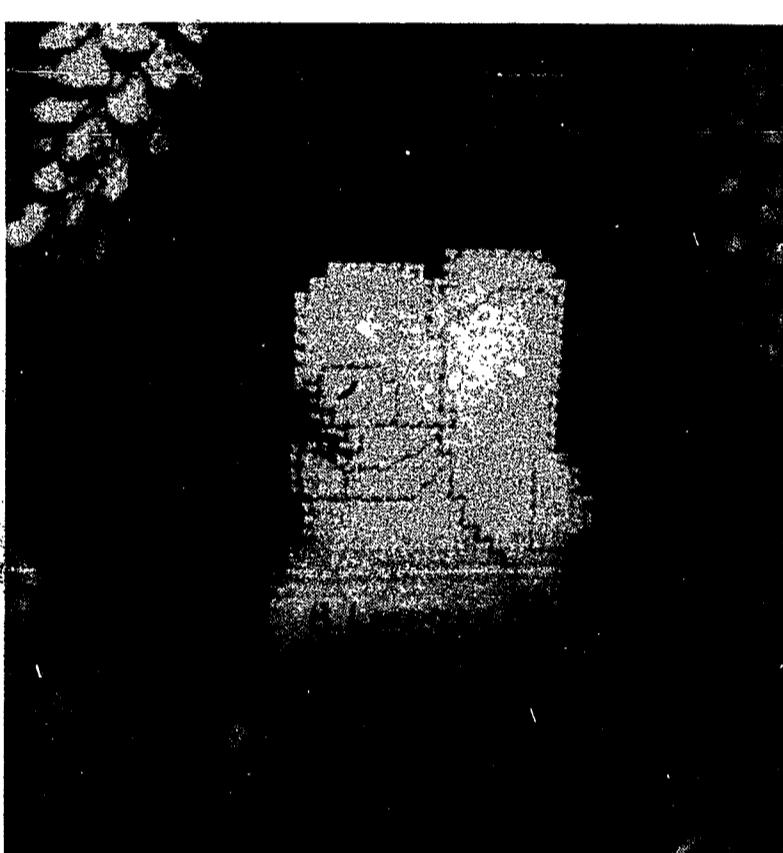

Terese Bourgeois leads the group of 55 women as president for the second year. Other officers include Phil Lagasse, first vice president; Billie Tudury, treasurer; and Dorothy Bielskin, treasurer.

Persons wishing to volunteer their time and talents to the Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary may contact Bourgeois at 467-7792.

Pink Lady Tootsie Bookhardt stands beside the door to the reception area which was decorated by Betty Kiely.

Diamondhead Boaters Association

By Liz and Bud Barnes

Next year you can mark your calendars—the first real cold spell will arrive on the day of, or day before, the annual Diamondhead Boaters' Christmas festivity, the Parade of Lights. So it has been for several years and so it was last Saturday.

But that seldom daunts some of our hearty skippers or their crews. Ten skippers and volunteer crews decorated their boats to Christmas themes and put out from the Diamondhead Marina to the Jourdan River to await darkness and the signal from parade-master Tom McMurry warmly situated in the Diamondhead Yacht Club with his portable radio.

Tom orchestrated their re-entry from the river and up Paradise Bayou into the marina, one at a time, with lights ablaze. It is a beautiful sight, especially if you're watching from the high elevation of the glass-enclosed yacht club.

The participating boats and their skippers were Arisag (Bob Hynson), At Ease (Mike Doherty), Bass Buggy (Jesse Morgan), Happy Cat (Dick Alvis), Jamie V (Emil Everica), KayBee (Kent Boyd), Lazy Bones (Harrie Devine), Nauti-Lass (Milt Parmelee), Passport (Bill Malcolm), and the Sea Lark (Roy Keel with Andy Ewing at the helm).

Each skipper received an 11-inch tall trophy topped with a medallion containing a relief of the bust of Santa Claus. Each trophy was inscribed "The (boat name) participated in the 1989 Diamondhead Boaters' Association Christmas Parade of Lights."

The 41-foot yacht, the KayBee, experienced steering problems and never left port. Yet the KayBee was still very much a part of the festivities, providing a homey setting complete with a stocking bedecked fireplace and lighted tree on the after deck.

It was here that Santa, (Harbormaster Tom Ballard), posed after his arrival to greet children and adults alike, as they re-entered the marina on the other boats.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The regular monthly meeting of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was held on Monday, Dec. 11 at the legion home.

Margaret Prevou, president, opened the meeting. Color-bearers Evelyn Burns and Hazel Wohlschlegel advanced the colors which was followed by the prayers said by chaplain Ursula Favre. Mrs. Prevou then asked the members to recite the Pledge of Allegiance followed by the Preamble.

Mrs. Prevou presented a gift to Janet Aime on behalf of the auxiliary for a job well done.

A motion was made to dispense with the business of the previous meeting so the group could proceed with the Christmas celebration and enjoy the hot dishes and other goodies prepared by the ladies.

The color-bearers retired the colors, the chaplain read the closing prayers, and the president adjourned the meeting.

Judy Gavagney and Lou Wilkerson were chairladies in charge of the games and handled the distribution of gifts. They did a great job and were congratulated by the ladies. The food was delicious and everyone had plenty to eat.

At this time the American Legion Auxiliary would like to wish all the members a Merry Christmas and a healthy and happy and prosperous New Year.

Diamondhead AARP 4228

By Woody Musson

Members attending the AARP December meeting enjoyed a discussion on vehicular maintenance by Carl M. Guy.

Mary Dillard, AARP district director, reviewed the workshop for newly elected officers. She also inducted the 1990 officers.

Hancock County tax collector Lee Bennett reviewed the 1987-1988-1989 property tax schedule. Yes, taxes are going up. Be sure you have applied for your Homestead Exemption and if you are 65 or older, be sure you reapply for your "over 65 exemption." Taxes are due Jan. 1.

The emergency 911 number is now working. Names, phone numbers and addresses are entered in the computer program. Your entire family is encouraged to become familiar with the 911 program.

Community project supported by our AARP chapter include legislative activities, contact Pat Tracy; health care program, contact Mary Ladner; Project Grandpa, contact Eddy Fernandez. The program offers family support to single-parent families.

Also, 55-Alive safe driving program, contact Bill Gemmel; Recycle program, contact Jackie Toca, Diamondhead Garden Club.

Food Pantry is an ongoing program of donating canned and non-perishable food items. Please continue your good support monthly.

Country Club exercise trail, contact Eddy Fernandez. This program will improve the Diamondhead Inn's former location next to the Country Club. A walkway with security lighting is promoted by AARP in conjunction with other Diamondhead club and associations.

The chapter's 1989 National Community Service Award, "Man of the Year," goes to Eddy Fernandez. He has participated and taken the lead in community projects and activities too numerous to list. His tireless efforts and devotion of time and talents are greatly appreciated by the group.

Our membership is now 194. Each member is encouraged to take an active part in the many chapter programs and activities. AARP elected officers and program chairmen need your support and help.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 (second Tuesday) at 3 p.m. at the Diamondhead Community Center. speaker will be Marie Wise of the Memorial Hospital, of Gulfport whose topic will be "Health Care."

Nine OLA students selected for Duke's honor program

Nine seventh grade students from Our Lady Academy are eligible for the Talent Identification program (TIP) sponsored by Duke University in Durham, N.C.

They are Erin Adam, Hannah Erwin, Erica Lizana, Gina

Logan, Jennifer Myers, Lisa Pope, Julia Ryan, Bernice Sy and Jennifer Trowbridge.

To become eligible for the TIP program, students must place in the upper three percent of national age-grade norms on an acceptable math, verbal, or total composite score on an in-school achievement, aptitude, or mental ability test battery.

Following application to the Talent Search, eligible students must take either the American College Testing Program's ACT Assessment or the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

The objectives of the Talent Search are to identify the very bright among our youngsters at an early age; to assist in the educational facilitation of these students; to follow and nurture their talent through the critical middle and high school years; and to develop an effective research effort to help understand the nature of gifted adolescents.

More than 220,000 students have completed TIP's Talent Search since its inception in 1980.

Bernice Sy; bottom row, Gina Logan, Erin Adam, Hannah Erwin, Julia Ryan and Lisa Pope.

SSC students study American Indian tribes

The library, reading, and art classes at St. Stanislaus High School have worked together in a cooperative adventure to study the native American Indian tribes.

Those tribes studied in particular include the Tunica-Biloxi Indians, the Choctaw Indians, the Apache Indians, the Seminole Indians, the Arapaho Indians and the Cherokee Indians.

During the week-long library research unit, the students learned library skills and research techniques. In their individual classrooms, the students wrote research papers on the material they got from the library.

The art class at St. Stanislaus completed a project on American Indians coinciding with the reading program. The juniors and seniors in the art class have spent the past nine weeks working with acrylic paints on a variety of surfaces including cardboard, masonite and plexiglass. Some of their

SENIOR DAY—Professor Virginia Rowland, from left, Wes Harris of Gulfport, Kathryn Boh of Bay St. Louis and Dean Tyrone Black take a break during Senior Appreciation Day sponsored by the University of Southern Mississippi's College of Business Administration. The day was a part of a three-day

Boardman Business Forum at USM, which was designed to develop the potential of the College of Business Administration's faculty and students and to draw closer ties between the university and business and industry in South Mississippi.

OLA Student Council named

Our Lady Academy has elected Student Council officers and members for the 1989-90 school year.

Officers include Shannon Maggio, president; Destin Black, first vice-president; Becca Kinney, second vice-president; Anna Dean, secretary; and Jeanne Williams, treasurer.

Representatives from each class include Anna Burdette and Kaaren Kolodziej, seniors; Anna DeMarco and Myrel Labat, juniors; Alyson Cousins and Kirsten Krogstad, sophomores;

Julia Hopper and Danielle Cronin, freshmen; Debbie Strong and Kay Kennedy, eighth grade; and Amy Jones and Courtney Cashio, seventh grade.

According to Julie Cranford, the OLA Student Council plans to host a Christmas dance, to sell t-shirts and bumper stickers, to sponsor a parent-daughter volleyball game, and to initiate an exchange program with other schools in the area.

Juniors eligible for CEPA-sponsored Washington trip

An all-expense paid tour of Washington, D.C. will be awarded to the two winners of this year's essay contest conducted by Coast Electric Power Association.

Robert Occhi, general manager, said the contest is open to all 11th grade students in Hancock, Harrison or Pearl River counties. He said in addition to the Washington trip scheduled for June 1990, the students will represent Coast Electric at a two-day leadership seminar to be held in March.

CEHS names Covode DAR Good Citizen

Coast Episcopal High School has announced the selection of senior John Scott Covode, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Covode of Pass Christian, as the 1989-90 recipient of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award.

Covode is a member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and the Varsity Quiz Bowl Team. He is vice president of the German Club, senior editor of the yearbook, The Pigeonhole, and a member of SADD. He will attend the Presidential Classroom in Washington D.C. in February.

Covode plays soccer, tennis, basketball, and was selected Most Valuable Player his junior year in football at Coast Episcopal. He is active in his church and donates many volunteer hours to various community projects.

The DAR Good Citizen Award is presented annually to students with high academic averages who show qualities of dependability, service, leadership, patriotism and understanding.

Students interested in entering the contest are required to submit a 400 to 600-word essay titled "Electric Cooperatives: Community Built, Community Builder." Essays can be written as a documentary, fiction or as a short story and interpretation of the title.

For more information on how to enter, call Kathy Fernandez at Coast Electric's headquarters in Bay St. Louis. The deadline for entering is Feb. 1.

MSU names local grads

More than 1,000 Mississippi State University students are scheduled to graduate Dec. 19 at the conclusion of the 1989 fall semester.

The university holds only one graduation exercise each year. Commencement exercises for all graduates from the 1989 summer terms to the 1990 spring semester will be held May 12 in Humphrey Coliseum.

Students completing requirements for undergraduate degrees with exceptional scholastic averages and with a minimum of one-half the total hours required for their degrees at MSU are graduated with honors.

Local fall semester degree candidates include Eric Allen Nolan of Bay St. Louis, bachelor of science degree, School of Forest Resources; John Andrew Rester of Mississippi State, bachelor of science degree, College of Arts and Sciences; Mark A. Sherrouse of Waveland, master of science degree, Graduate School; and Thalinie A. Walker of Bay St. Louis, bachelor of art degree, College of Arts and Sciences.

Now Phone Service Comes In Your Favorite Calling Patterns.

Tailored To Save

Economy Service You don't make many local calls? Economy Service can help you trim your phone bill down to size - while expanding your local calling area.

Under the new Area Calling Plan, Economy Service turns nearby long distance numbers into local calls at lower local rates. You can call these areas without dialing "1" before the number. Just dial the seven-digit phone number the same as you would when making any other local call.

Designed For Versatility

Standard Service Well suited to the phone styles of those who make more calls, Standard Service stretches the savings with a discount calling package. It also expands your local calling area, turning nearby long distance numbers into local calls at lower local rates. Instead of dialing "1" before the number, you dial just seven digits as you would when making any other local call.

The Area Calling Plan. A New Style Of Saving!

South Central Bell's Area Calling Plan gives you two new ways to save on phone service. It expands your local calling area so you save on calls to many numbers that were previously long distance. And it gives you more control over your local phone bill. If you use your phone less, you pay less.

With the Area Calling Plan, one phone style doesn't have to fit all. Now you have a choice. And the new plan has been designed in two different versions, so you can tailor your phone service to your individual calling patterns.

All telephone customers in this area will receive information in the mail that explains the benefits of the Area Calling Plan. We think you'll find it helpful in matching your calling style to the phone service that fits you best.

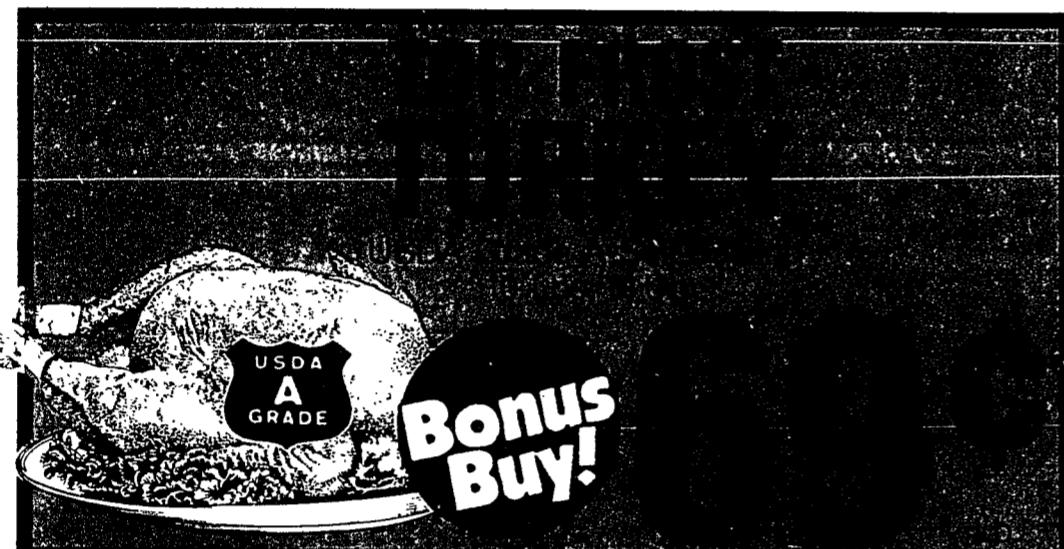

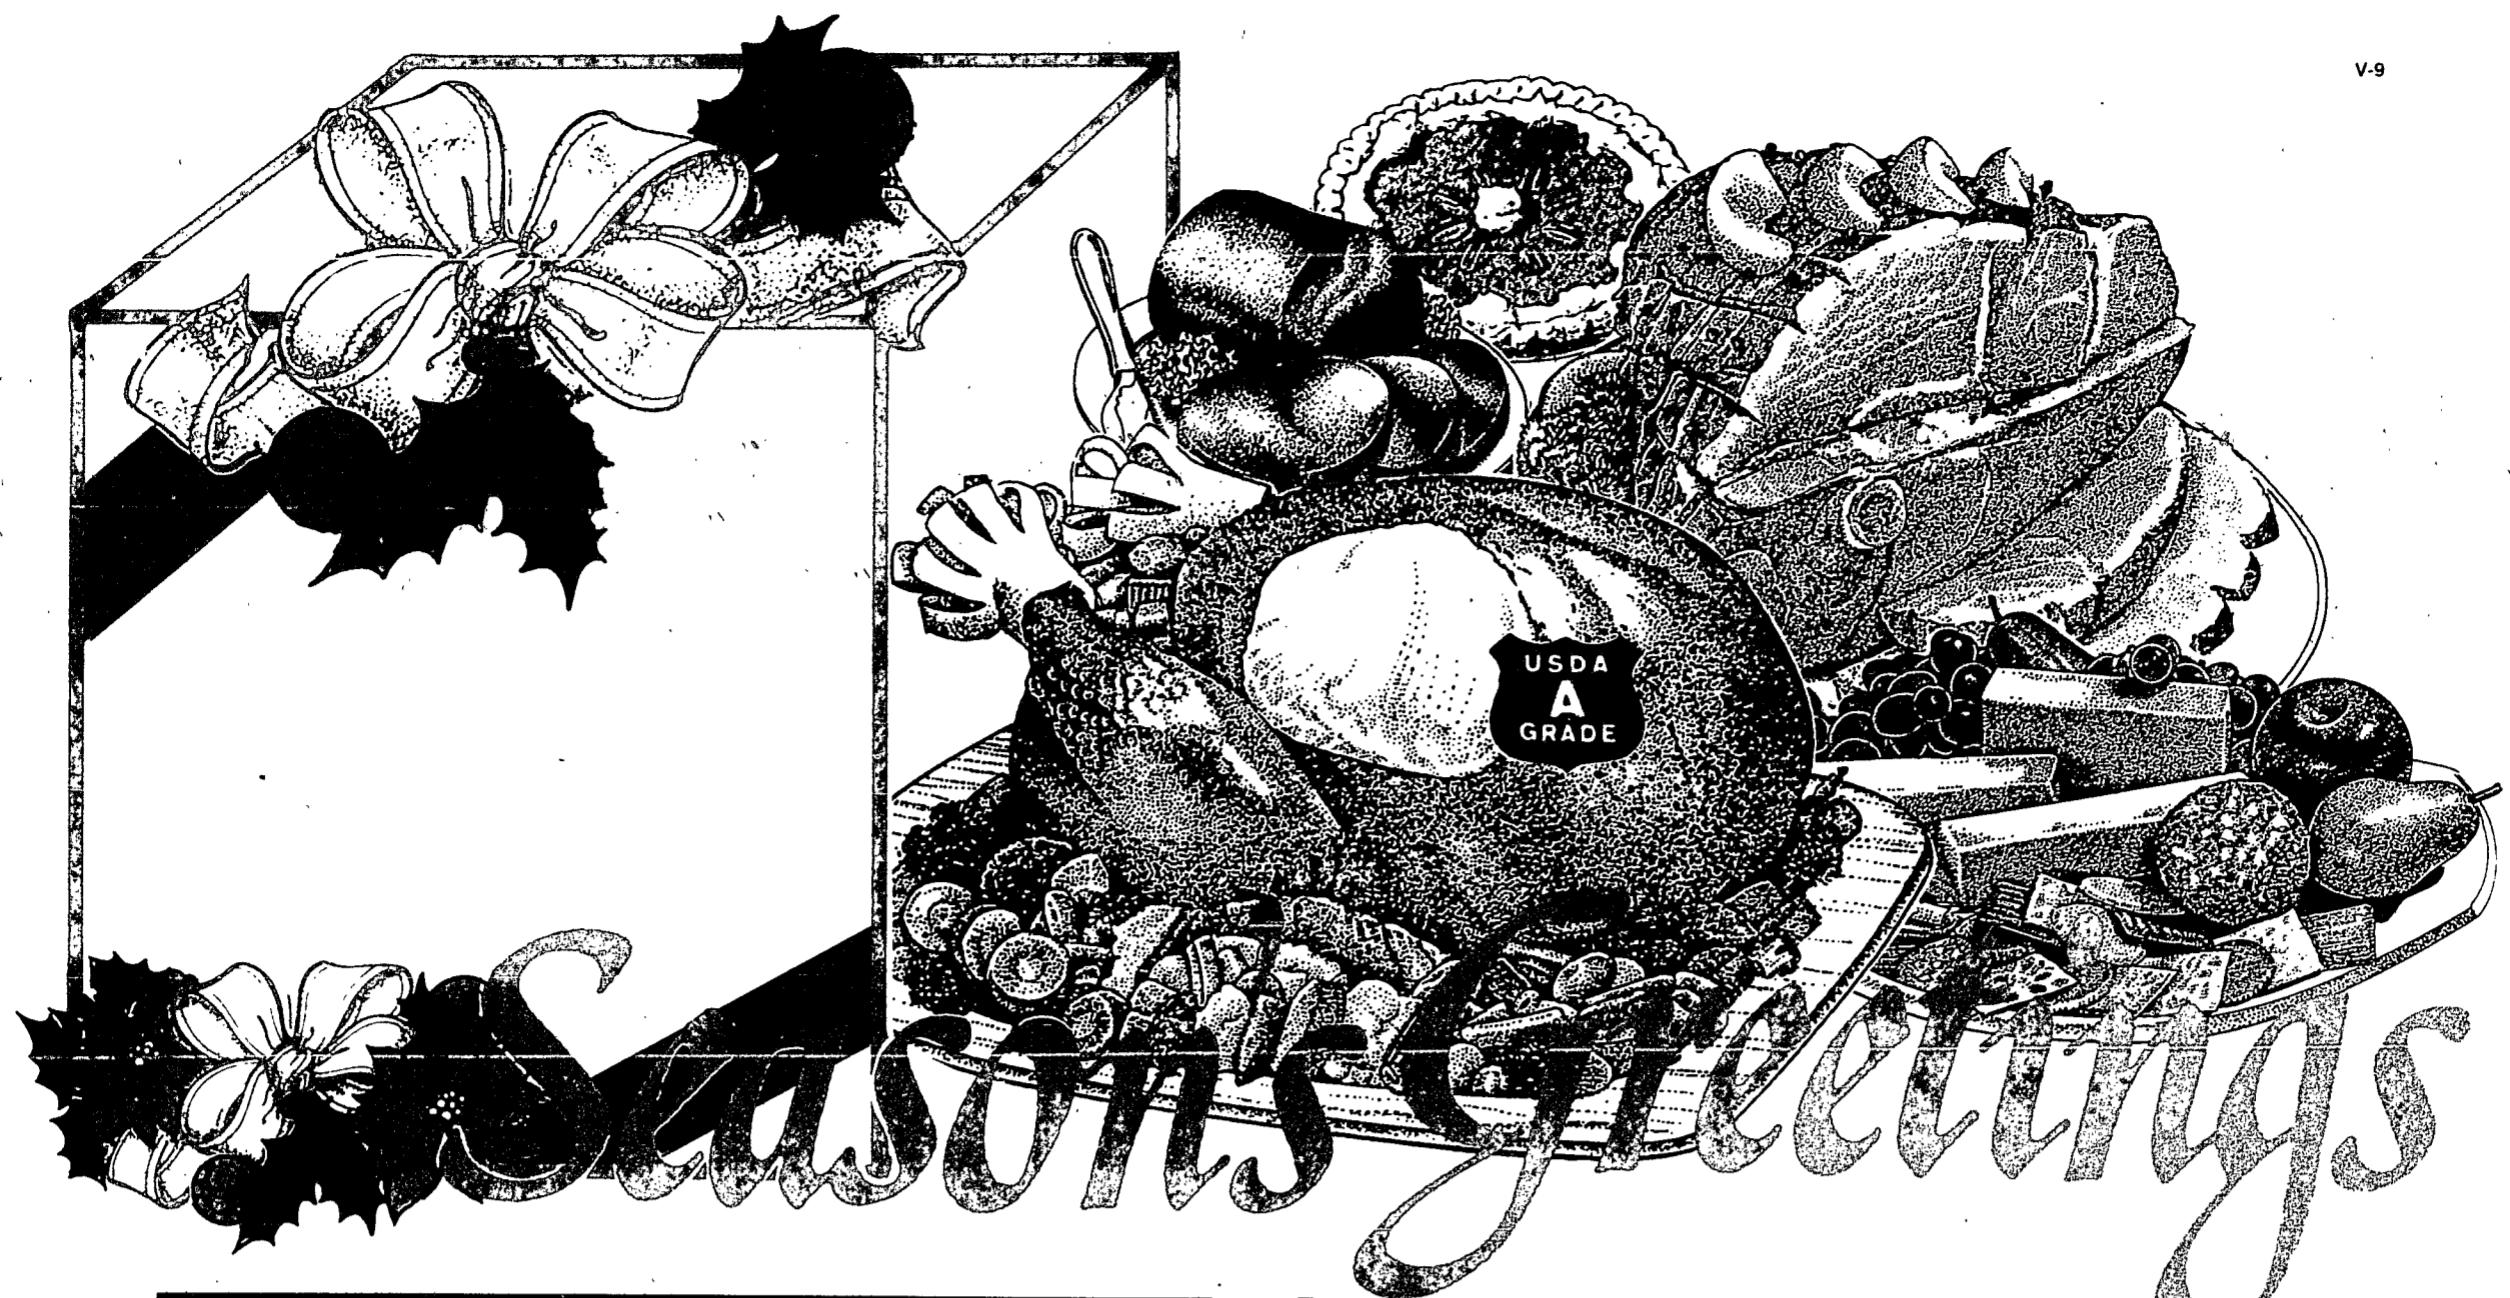

If you prefer a set monthly rate and don't make many long distance calls to nearby cities, Flat Rate Service will continue to be available. Your local calling area will remain the same as before.

For more information, call at no charge 1 557-6500 (residential customers) or 1 557-6000 (business customers).
